Fluctuations in the value of the underlying assets, and the income derived from these assets and changes in interest rates, mean that the value of an investment may fall as well as rise. All performances are illustrated net of investment management fees, except where otherwise stated. An investment in the fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment.

3rd Quarter 2021 Market Comment

Regional economic fortunes are likely to remain highly divergent despite a strong rebound pencilled in for the globe as a whole. Less available fiscal and monetary policy space, as well as new and more severe virus strains in lower vaccinated countries, will likely keep the relative pace of economic recovery in emerging markets on the back foot. Despite a rapid narrowing of output gaps in many developed markets, we are not anticipating a persistent inflationary episode to follow given that demand is unlikely to remain above supply, above productivity-related wage increases are unlikely to persist and longer-term inflation expectations remain reasonably well anchored.

While growth in the local economy staged a firmer-than-expected 7.5% rebound in the first half of the year, we expect growth to soften from here given ongoing supply constraints, a lagging vaccination rollout plan, elevated unemployment and an adverse effect of the July riots on business confidence. Although the commodity price windfall has boosted revenues for this fiscal year, medium-term risks remain high in the context of shorter-term wage agreements and a push for pro-poor spending. We expect inflation to average close to the midpoint of the 3% to 6% inflation target range for the next three years in the absence of any currency, food or oil price shocks. As such, we view no immediate pressure on the South African Reserve Bank to raise interest rates and therefore see the risks to the first interest rate hike as being tilted towards the first quarter of 2022. We expect a gradual normalisation in interest rates to follow.
