1st Quarter 2024 Market Comment

Incoming data and central bank rhetoric are being taken on board by financial markets as they adjust their views of the economic outlook and the trajectory for inflation. As such, markets have significantly pulled back the number of expected interest rate cuts for 2024. Given the effects of disrupted trade flows, supply chain shortages, increased uncertainty and higher risk premia arising from geopolitical tensions, a higher level of political instability in the global economy could result in higher inflation, lower growth and significant welfare losses in the longer term.

A record number of elections are taking place globally this year. In SA, polls for the May general elections currently flag a significant risk for the incumbent ruling party. We expect pedestrian growth of 1% this year, up from 0.7% last year, to be supported by fixed investment in energy and a marginal recovery in household spending. Upside risks to the inflation outlook continue to stem from a weaker exchange rate, administered prices and geopolitically-driven higher global food and oil prices. Meanwhile, demand-pull and wage inflation are expected to remain contained, limiting second-round or persistent inflationary pressures. We expect the first move to lower SA interest rates in the second half of the year. Aligned with the SA Reserve Bank's (SARB) Quarterly Projection Model which, now forecasts only 50 basis points worth of easing by the end of the year, risks are tilted to a shallower interest rate cutting cycle.
