ESG FUND RATING

The environmental, social and governance (ESG) fund ratings are based on the exposure of the underlying assets held to industry-specific ESG risks and the ability to manage those risks relative to peers.

FUND OBJECTIVE

The fund strives for long-term capital growth as well as some level of capital protection. Through the use of a quantitative risk model, the fund aims to profit from a rising share market and protect against capital losses in a weak market.

WHO IS THIS FUND FOR?

This fund is suited to investors who strive for long-term capital growth as well as some level of capital protection.

INVESTMENT MANDATE

The fund invests across shares, bonds and cash and may gain exposure to foreign assets up to a maximum of 30% of its portfolio (with an additional 10% for African ex-SA investments) – moving from shares into fixed interest investments when the fund's value drops below a predetermined "floor". When markets start to move up, the fund increases its holdings in shares, tapping into these growth opportunities. Derivatives may also be tactically used to manage and limit downside risk and to capture or lock in gains as and when they occur.

REGULATION 28 COMPLIANCE

The fund complies with retirement fund legislation. It is therefore suitable as a stand-alone fund in retirement products where Regulation 28 compliance is specifically required.

FUND COMMENTARY

Global asset markets ended 2021 with a strong showing in Q4, even though the highly contagious Omicron variant dampened economic activity around the globe as many countries were forced to implement additional lockdown measures to curb rising infections. On the positive side, studies suggest the Omicron variant may cause less severe disease than the Delta variant.

As policymakers in both emerging and developed economies look to shift from pandemic response to recovery, they'll need to be careful not to prematurely withdraw fiscal support, and look to increase the efficiency of public spending while balancing the need for debt sustainability. The pace of the rate hiking cycle also needs to be factored into the equation, in order not to unsettle equity markets, which are expected to face headwinds as the policy environment turns more restrictive. Rising energy costs and the resultant impact on inflation remain a threat to the continuation of the global economic recovery, with supply chain issues exacerbated by additional lockdown measures posing a particular threat.

Locally, the Reserve Bank (SARB) highlighted the robust, though uneven, economic growth recovery and that the recent restatement of the GDP data reveals a lower output gap than previously estimated. A slowdown in economic growth in China will no doubt have an adverse impact on resource demand, which will be negative for South Africa's terms of trade (export prices relative to import prices). With inflation creeping up due to rising input prices, the SARB Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) increased the repo rate by 0.25% in November.

The fund has performed strongly over the past year, aided by strong global equity markets and our preference for equities over bonds. The timing of our rotation back into SA Listed Property as well as SA Mid and Small Caps contributed to returns as these sectors outperformed on a relative basis over the past year. In addition, our currency hedging positions continue to add incremental gains while providing protection against the devaluation of offshore assets due to the notoriously volatile Rand.

The fund currently has a relatively high exposure to growth assets, as equity markets continue to advance albeit with increased volatility of late. Effective equity exposure is close to the 60% maximum limit enforced within the respective unit trust category. Exposure to local fixed income assets is at moderate levels due to the fiscal risks inherent in the local narrative, despite SA nominal bonds offering relatively attractive yields at present.

While 2021 was largely supportive of the risk-on trade due to accommodative monetary and fiscal policy around the globe, persistent inflation continues to present a challenge that is likely to lead to tighter conditions, which we expect will result in heightened volatility in asset markets along with a moderation of global economic growth.

The fund is well positioned to participate should markets continue trending upward. In line with our dual risk and return objectives, we remain cognisant of the many risks that still prevail in global markets and will look to reduce risky asset exposure should any such risks unfold.

TER is a historic measure of the impact the deduction of management and operating costs has on a fund's value. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER, which includes the annual service fee, may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. Transaction Cost (TC) is a necessary cost in administering the fund and impacts fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
