Global risk assets continued their march upwards in the first quarter of 2024. While the rally has broadened, US and technology shares maintained their leadership. Nascent signs of improving activity, a good results season and improving financial conditions helped equity markets shrug off concerns around the path for interest rates. Oil prices were up 14%, presenting a challenge to the pace of disinflation over the remainder of the year. The combination was unhelpful for global bonds, with the US 10-year Treasury yield rising by 30 basis points (bps) over the quarter. This resulted in global equities delivering 8% for the quarter, while global bonds were down 3% (both in US dollars).

Moderate rand weakness and poor domestic performance meant South African assets again lagged their global counterparts. Stagnant growth in China remained unhelpful, while domestic earnings were impacted by the myriad of electricity and logistics challenges, as well as a tough environment for consumers.

Domestic bond yields continued to grind higher, ending the quarter back above 12%. This was despite a reasonable National Budget in February, as foreign investors remained absent while the asset class is well owned by local fund managers. The net result was similar outcomes for South African bonds and equities, both down by 2% to 3% over the quarter in rands. Domestic property was a relatively bright spot. Having bottomed in the last quarter of 2024, the sector continued to rerate from depressed levels, ending the quarter up 4%.

In equity markets, both the developed and emerging markets performed well. Global equities delivered positive returns for the quarter with the MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI) up 8.2% in US dollars and emerging market shares up 2.4%. The local market, proxied by the FTSE/JSE Capped SWIX, performed poorly. The index was down 2.3% for the quarter and year to date. The Industrial 25 Index and Resource 10 Index were both up for the quarter returning 0.9% and 0.8% respectively, while the Financial 15 Index was down 7.1% over the same period.

Our philosophy is that there are share-related measures that drive the market and, similarly, differentiate the returns on shares. These drivers are dynamic. At times, the portfolio may gain from maintaining a higher level of these measures than the market and, similarly, when the portfolio maintains a lower than average level.

Our strategy determines the relationships between these measures and positions our portfolio accordingly to gain a better return than that of the market. The current position of the portfolio is:

- To gain from shares with a high sensitivity to the US dollar/rand exchange rate
- To gain from shares with a higher than average medium-term return
- To gain from under-exposure to resources shares.

TER is a historic measure of the impact the deduction of management and operating costs has on a fund's value. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER, which includes the annual service fee, may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. Transaction Cost (TC) is a necessary cost in administering the fund and impacts fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. The TER and TC cannot be determined accurately for the funds that are less than one year old. Calculations are based on actual data where possible and best estimates where actual data is not available.

DISCLAIMER

We aim to treat our clients fairly by giving you the information you need in as simple a way as possible, to enable you to make informed decisions about your investments.

- We believe in the value of sound advice and so recommend that you consult a financial planner before buying or selling unit trusts. You may, however, buy and sell without the help of a financial planner. If you do use a planner, we remind you that they are entitled to certain negotiable planner fees or commissions.
- Investments in unit trusts should ideally be a medium- to long-term strategy that takes cognisance of the Recommended Investment Term of each individual fund as stipulated in its Minimum Disclosure Document. A fund's or an investment strategy's ability to provide benchmark performance, or to achieve its performance target over its Recommended Investment Term on a net of fee basis may be impacted by market illiquidity, differences in fund and market pricing points, concentration risk and other local (and where applicable global) events, such as market- and political developments, macro-economic factors and healthcare risks such as Covid-19, amongst others. Your fund value may therefore go up or down and the investment capital or return on your investment is not guaranteed. How a fund has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.
- The fund fees and costs that we charge for managing your investment are disclosed in this Minimum Disclosure Document (MDD) and in the table of fees and charges, both of which are available on our public website or from our contact centre.

- The valuation time is set at 15:00 each working day for all our funds, excluding our money market funds which is at 13:00, to determine the daily ruling price (other than at month-end when we value the Old Mutual Index Funds and Old Mutual Multi-Managers Fund of Funds range at 17:00 close). Daily prices are available on the public website and in the media.
- Unit trusts are traded at ruling prices, may borrow to fund client disinvestments and may engage in scrip lending. The daily ruling price is based on the current market value of the fund's assets plus income minus expenses (NAV of the portfolio) divided by the number of units on issue.
- Excessive daily withdrawals from the fund may place the fund under liquidity pressures. In such circumstances a process of ring-fencing of withdrawal instructions and/or managed payouts over time may be followed.
- The Net Asset Value to Net Asset Value figures are used for the performance calculations. The performance quoted is for a lump sum investment. The performance calculation includes income distributions prior to the deduction of taxes and distributions are reinvested on the ex-dividend date. Performances may differ as a result of actual initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. Annualised returns are the weighted average compound growth rates over the performance period measured. Performances are in ZAR and as at 31 March 2024.
