Fund review

The STANLIB SA Equity Fund returned -4.1% during the quarter ended December 2018. The benchmark (JSE SWIX) returned a negative 4% over the period. The one year return for the fund is -10.5% compared to the benchmark that returned -12.7%.

In the quarter our overweight exposures to Pepkor, Capitec Old Mutual contributed to performance, whilst the main detractors were Mondi, Sasol and ABInbev. Our underweight positions in Aspen and Mediclinic relative to the benchmark added to relative performance whilst our underweight position in AngloGold and Absa Group detracted from performance.

We did the following noteworthy trades during the quarter. We added to our Naspers and Discovery positions....We sold out of Quilter, Omnia and Libstar.

Market overview

The JSE All Share Swix index total return for Q4 2018 was -4%. Industrials were the largest loser at -6.5%. Resources declined by 4.5% and Financials lost 2%. The one year return for the SA market is -8.5%. Resources were the only positive sector delivering a 15.5% return over the 12 month period.

The JSE All Share PE (price earnings ratio) is currently 16x and 12x on a forward basis. The dividend yield is 3.5% historic and 4.1% forward. Consensus earnings growth is forecast to be 15% and 10% for 2019 and 2020. Industrial companies (underpinned by media and retail) are expected to deliver the strongest earnings growth in 2019

Looking ahead

The key concerns for EM equities are US-China trade relations, the slowdown of China's economy and a tightening in global liquidity. In China, the focus on deleveraging has begun to slow. It seems we have turned a corner, with the government pursuing stimulus measures aimed at stabilising the economy. The key driver for the market over the next six to 12 months is likely to be the US-China trade war, and whether we see a negotiated outcome. After a fall from the peak earlier in 2018, given the resilient fundamental story, current equity market valuations offer investors an attractive opportunity into quality businesses supported by structural growth trends.

We expect consumer confidence in South Africa to improve in the medium term, which motivates our active position towards this segment; we are overweight banks, insurance and retail shares. The Property sector outlook has deteriorated as the economic uncertainty and vacancies remain a concern, the fund has no exposure to property shares.

Naspers' leading position in multiple emerging markets should enable the group to benefit as increased internet penetration continues across its operating regions, creating additional markets and driving the next leg of revenue growth. Management sees profitability in e-Commerce as key to closing the holding company discount. This should benefit our largest holding in the fund.
